Top of the Clubs

Editor's note: The following items were selected from this month's club reports because of newsworthiness and general interest.

Meeting attendance for the Top Dozen this month are Los Angeles Coin Club, 153; Chicago Coin Club, 83; Orange County Coin Club, 82; Heart of America Numismatic Association, 76; Fort Worth Coin Club, 56; Worcester County Numismatic Society, 55; Philadelphia Coin Club, 53; Corn Belt Coin Club and San Bernardino County Coin Club, each 51; Wichita Coin Club, 48; Tidewater Coin Club and Western Reserve Numismatic Association, each 45.

The Baltimore Coin Club recently gave honorary life memberships to four charter members still active in the organization, Capt. O. H. Dodson, USN, Charles E. McCormick, William F. Perlitz, Dr. D. M. Robinson.

When the members of the Central California Coin Club reached the local Monterey library in September, they found the doors locked because of a California state holiday of which they were unaware. Until called on account of darkness, however, they met in front of the building.

Celebrating its 15th anniversary on Nov. 13 will be the East Liverpool Coin Club. Past presidents are expected to attend along with neighboring club members.

The newly organized Gainesville (Fla.) Coin Club has a large proportion of members from the University of Florida faculty and student body. Meetings, according to Mrs. Maude Adams, secretary, 312 N.E. First Ave., are held on the fourth Monday night of each month.

At its September meeting the Queens County Coin Club adopted this resolution: "Resolved, That the Queens County Coin Club petition the Superintendent of the Mint to regulate the distribution of proof coin sets whereby a limited number of sets can be purchased by any one individual. Further resolved to recommend to the Superintendent that these regulations be patterned after the method, now in effect, of distributing mint sets."

Exhibit Oddments — Libby prison medal of 1893 (Steve Bibler, Seattle CC). Cent with a dime inlaid (O. T. Tims, Oklahoma City CC). Key chain token (Harry Bartley, Pittsburgh Numismatic Society). Japanese abacus (Col. John Fritz, St. Petersburg CC). Die from which 1956 A.N.A. convention badge was struck and lead trial piece of the badge (M. Vernon Sheldon, Chicago CC). Pennsylvania 10 and 20 shilling notes of 1769 (Otto Budde, Western Reserve Numismatic C). Coins with various types of edges (Mr. McNamara, Western Reserve Numismatic C). Pillar dollars (William H. Spence, Dr. C. Glenn Curtis and Dan Harley, Orange County CC). Five cent patterns, 59 pieces (Raymond K. Harris, Rochester Numismatic Association). Overdates and three-legged Buffalo 5¢ (Frank Favino, Queens County CC). Conder tokens (Joseph E. Ward, Omaha CC). Bank notes with matching die proofs of vignettes (J. Blanchard, New York Numismatic C). Confederate money (Dr. C. L. Emmons, San Bernardino County CC). New Zealand coins and tokens (William D. Koonce, Los Angeles CC). Bay Park Bus Lines transportation tokens (H. C. Bartley, Western Pennsylvania Numismatic Society). American Legion convention badges (Robert S. Porter, Jr., Western Pennsylvania Numismatic Society). Tokens of 50 numismatists (A. R. Feldman, Bronx CC). "Booby head" cent, 1839 (Robert Cohen, Long Island CC). "Certificate of Unsung Hero" (Warren Kimball, Oak Park CC). "Pieces of eight" (Jack Reberry, Monterey Park CC). Broken bank bills (Ben Gorlick, Seattle CC). California gold octagonal half dollar (Claude Farwell, Oklahoma City CC).

The Atlanta penitentiary is playing host for the next two years to the most expert and also most egotistical counterfeiter of our time. He made $5.00 bills more perfectly than the government itself. Unfortunately he couldn't resist one slight innovation. Instead of Lincoln's picture he insisted upon using his own. — Journal of the American Medical Association, Aug. 18, 1956.

ART HISTORY ON PERSIAN AND PHOENICIAN COINAGE

By

H. DAVID RODEE, A.N.A. No. 19261

All rights reserved

PART I

SINCE the Renaissance there have been many scholarly books written on the subject of Greek coins. So many, in fact, that there are few collectors who, even if not primarily interested in the classical field, are still unfamiliar with the most important issues. The tetradrachms of Athens, Alexander the Great and Syracuse, to name a few, are so important and well known that even a staunch collector of American coins can hardly have escaped seeing them at one time or another.

There has been much lavish and well deserved praise heaped on the art work of classical Greek coinage but after awhile even the serene and perfect beauty of Kimon's Arethusa and Phrygillos's Athene become a little tiresome and the vigorous, symmetrical formalism of oriental art is a welcome relief.

Unfortunately the great oriental empires of Egypt, Babylonia and Assyria never seemed to have felt the need for coinage, so numismatists are deprived of this medium of their art. When the Greeks and Lydians finally "invented" money, these empires had either fallen into decay or had become subject to others, so it was western art which was destined to go through its many phases in coin design. Hellenism in one form or another held sway in these ancient lands until the end of the Roman period when the Moslem ban on earthly art ended once and for all the chance for a real oriental coin art.

There was one brief period, however, when the ancient style that had its origin in the Nile and Euphrates valley 5000 years ago was seen on coins. This occurred on the native Persian coinage and particularly the issues of Phœnicia during the fourth and fifth centuries B. C.

The Achæmenid Persian empire began when Cyrus conquered Lydia in 546 B. C. and Babylon a few years later. By the time of Darius I, Chaldea, Syria-Palestine, Egypt, Cyprus and the Greek islands off the coast of Asia Minor had fallen to the Great King and at its height the Persian empire extended from the Greek mainland to India.

When the Lydian mint at Sardis was conquered, its gold issue of the lion-bull staters probably ended, but a few years later Darius re-opened the mint and started his own coinage. It is not surprising to notice that he copied the old Lydian bimetallic standard inaugurated by Cræsus but instead of making his gold absolutely pure, he added 3% copper alloy to harden the soft metal. This 130 grain gold piece was called a daric, the meaning of which is uncertain but was either derived from the name of Darius the king who first issued them, or the Persian word zariq meaning "piece of gold."

His silver coin of almost equal

H. David Rodee, Columbus, Ohio, received his degree from Ohio State University last December and has done graduate work in art history. He conducted a weekly numismatic column for the Columbus Sunday Dispatch.

purity was called a "siglos," 20 of them being needed to equal a gold daric. The weight standard for this issue was the old Babylonian form with the ratio of gold to silver being a little over 13 to 1, thus the daric weighed 1/5th of a silver mina and the siglos, 1/100th of a silver mina.

These pieces, at least the gold darics, were issued before 500 B. C. and within a few years became the world's first international gold coinage. They were issued by the millions and because of their purity of metal were unhesitatingly accepted all over the civilized world far beyond the bounds of Persian domination. With the wealth and power of the Persian empire to back them up it is not surprising that they were the chief gold coins in circulation until the Macedonian staters of Phillip and Alexander two centuries later.

The design of the darics continued practically unchanged until the fall of the empire. On the obverse appeared the picture of the bearded king in a running-crouching position. He wears the plaited royal robe with the scalloped war crown on his head and in his right hand he carries a spear point down. In his left hand he holds a bow with a quiver slung over his left shoulder. A little later on a short dagger is substituted for the spear and one other type shows the king without the beard in different robes. This beardless picture is thought to represent Cyrus the younger, and if so, perhaps the later darics actually intended to portray living men rather than just the conventional "Great King."

The general artistic style, however, changed considerably for while the first issue is archaic and often crude, those of the later period become successively finer and more detailed.

The designs of the sigloi are identical to those described above for the darics except for two notable exceptions. One of these shows a half length portrait of the Great King holding a bow and arrows instead of the usual full length picture, while the other shows the king drawing back the bow string as if firing an arrow. Thus there are really five different types of the daric and siglos, although only the first type mentioned earlier is familiar to the average collector.

There are some rare subdivisions of both the daric and the siglos known but these do not seem to have ever been made in any quantity nor do they enjoy the popularity of the larger pieces. A 1/12th daric and a 1/3rd siglos both show the king drawing the bow while the tiny 1/54th daric shows only the king's head. The 1/6th siglos is of the usual type.

No multiples were issued in either denomination during the time of the Persian empire, although Mazæus, the satrap of Babylon under Alexander issued some double darics which were copied for a long time afterwards in the Indo-Greek areas. The unchanging reverses of all the Persian coins bear only an oblong incuse punch which served no purpose as a design but held the coin in the die during striking.

Thus we have here, on Persian coinage, one instance of real oriental art practically uninfluenced by Hellenism, an art that was old even at the time of Moses.

Nevertheless, these native Persian types, however typical or famous, are rather limited due to the nature of the design and because the right to coin gold was the prerogative of the Persian king himself. Later on, though, some of the satrapies (provinces) began issuing silver coins which are rich both in oriental art and allusions to contemporary history. Almost without exception, the best of these were struck in Phœnicia, the most powerful of the king's holdings. I am purposely not discussing here any of the portrait coins of the other satraps (governors) regardless of how interesting they might be, for despite the importance of these issues they are almost wholly Greek in style. Here I wish to restrict myself to those coins which show Persian influences and design.

Illustrated here are four of the major types of the native Persian darics and sigloi. No. 1 shows the most familiar design with the Great King running in plaited robes with a bow and quiver.

No. 2 shows a variant with a short dagger in the king's right hand and the quiver missing.

No. 3 shows one of the sigloi on which the Great King is portrayed from the waist up.

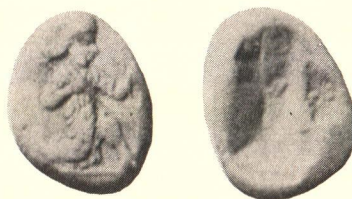

Figure 4

No. 4 is one of the unusual and interesting darics which is supposed to represent Cyrus the younger. The variations of the punch marks on the four reverses are evident but have no meaning except to some specialists who feel they may be a clue in sequence dating.

PART II

PHOENICIA was a famous trading area as early as the 12th century B. C. but its various cities had been subject at one time or another to Egypt, Assyria, Babylonia and finally Persia. Despite this, the cities prospered and their great fleets carried dyes, lumber and other precious stuffs from one end of the Mediterranean to the other. When these cities, especially Sidon, finally fell to Persia in the late sixth century B. C. they were given a status higher than normal which bordered on semi-independence.

As part of the fifth satrapy of the Persian empire, they were more allies than subjects of the Great King, for Persia needed the power of the Phœnician fleets. Sidon, Tyre and Aradus together agreed to furnish the Great King with 300 triremes for his fleet and so badly did he need these vessels that he dared not anger the cities to revolt by a harsh rule. Still, the Phœnician cities were nominally subject to Persia and so paid the usual tribute and swore fidelity. In return they were given certain privileges, one of which was the signal honor of striking their own coins.

Sidon, Tyre and Aradus, the three most important cities began minting first. Their earliest pieces date from about 450 B. C. so the privilege was probably awarded during the reign of Xerxes.

Phœnicia really had no native art of its own, for being in that particular geographic position it was continually subject to someone and consequently the artists had little time or opportunity to be original. Rather in many cases her artists copied their styles from Assyria and particularly Egypt with whom she had always had close contact. So fortunately for students of numismatic art when the Phœnician cities began to issue coins, the art work was often distinctly oriental in character.

Only the three cities named above plus Byblus issued coins in what I shall call, for Phœnicia at least, "the archaic period," that is, before the conquest by Alexander. After this time other Phœnician cities minted coins but they are either Hellenistic or Roman colonial and as such are artistically similar to the other coins minted in the classical world in that time. Thus I am focusing my attention on the issues of these four cities alone which had either Persian or Egyptian types in the period of 450 B. C. to 330 B. C.

Of these four cities the coins of Aradus are perhaps the least important both artistically and historically for her types are oriental in design but rather abstract as far as any definite influence is concerned. The archaic head of Melkart or a fish-god on the obverses have a local significance and the galleys on the reverses are interesting but inferior to those on the double shekels of Sidon which I shall discuss shortly. All the coins from this city are, of course, in silver and are of small or medium size, ranging in date from about 420 B. C. to about 332 B. C. A tetradrachm of Attic weight showing the Melkart-galley design is seen in illustration No. 5.

I have always considered the issues of Sidon, the largest city in Phœnicia, to be the most interesting from the standpoint of both art and history. As with all early Phœnician coins, the dating of the first issues of Sidon are still more or less a conjecture but this maritime city probably began striking coins around 450 B. C. The types chosen for Sidon are of considerable interest, for on the issues, oriental art and references to contemporary history are exemplified in a manner not encountered on other money. Even the types with a local significance are distinctive enough that they form a unique series in the world's great coinages.

The standard was Phœnician and again only in silver in accordance with the rights of the Persian king. The denominations of double shekel, half shekel, 1/16th and 1/32nd shekel were made in the first issue with the 1/4th shekel being added later. The same denominations were continued in full or in part until the time of Alexander.

The first type was rather crudely struck and of primitive style. The Phœnicians seem to have been rather careless in casting their blanks, for the surface of the first type and often those of the second type are rather uneven and lumpy, giving the design a comparatively indistinct appearance. Illustration No. 6 shows one of these double shekels.

On the obverse appears a galley with its square sails partially furled. Due to striking or wear many of the details are gone from most of these scarce pieces but close observation shows a ram on the prow of the boat used in war-time to puncture the hulls of enemy vessels. The water is represented by a series of wavy lines. These galleys are the first representation of a ship on coins and illustrate well the type of vessel used to carry Phœnician traders to all parts of the civilized world.

On the reverse in an incuse square appears the first of the great chariot groups which were destined to become famous. The design is distinctly near-eastern for it shows the Great King of Persia in a two horse chariot with his driver. Above them appears a curious little incuse object which can be identified as the forepart of a wild goat. The chariot group, as a whole, is quite formal and archaic with the king and his attendant standing stiffly upright and the horses in slow motion.

The next type dates from about 400 B. C. to 384 B. C. and is considerably different. The galley now is a minor part of the design and is floating sailless in the sea before the time of the Roman empire. Aramaic letters of unknown meaning also appear for the first time on this coinage.

The reverse shows the Great King again in a chariot but this time in high action with the horses

the turreted and fortified city walls of Sidon. Beneath this in the exergue appears two lions facing in opposite directions. This is one of the significant designs in ancient numismatics for it is the first time real architecture is shown on a coin. Such a representation does not become prevalent again until fore legs off the ground. The whole is in an incuse circle instead of a square and the wild goats are below instead of above the group. Illustration No. 7 shows one of these double shekels of the second type.

The third and last basic type returns again to the slow chariot and bears Aramaic letters which are abbreviations of rulers names and dates, making further attribution more exact. These pieces, issued under Bodashtart and his successor Abd' ashtart, show the sailless galley as the main type.

The style is somewhat changed and refined on these last pieces, however. No longer are the planchets uneven and lumpy and the use of the incuse square and circle is abandoned. The design is somewhat larger and more detailed than the earlier pieces and the more careful die work which is evident perhaps indicates Greek influence.

The galley is now quite detailed with the rowers and their oars shown along with the rudder and figurehead. The sea is indicated by conventional wavy lines but the dates of the Phœnician king's reign appear for the first time over the galley, along with his name on the obverse. Perhaps this show of Phœnician independence can be considered an indication of increasing power of the local rule and a weakening of Persia.

By far the most important change in this new type, however is a figure of an Egyptian king who follows the chariot of the Great King. Previous to this issue the chariot design was emblematic in character but now it alludes to a specific and important event in the history of Egypt and Persia.

Egypt had been under foreign domination almost continuously since the Libyan invasion in the 12th century B. C. Her wealth and weakness made her the prize of Assyria and Babylonia and in 525 B. C. Cambyses of Persia invaded the Delta and succeeded in dethroning the native pharaoh. Persian taxes were heavy and at times the Great King was overly severe but Egypt managed to keep her prosperity and a will to be free.

During the reigns of Xerxes and Artaxerxes I, Egypt revolted but the great hordes of orientals that made up the Persian army quickly overcame native resistance and Persia's revenge was severe. In the year 405 B. C. however, Egypt successfully revolted and kept her independence until 341 B. C. under the 29th and 30th dynasties. To Persia this meant the loss of one of her richest satrapies and degradation in the eyes of her other subject peoples. If Egypt could successfully defy Artaxerxes II, then it might be an inspiration for other satraps to rebel, so all efforts were made to reconquer the rebels.

As time went on it became obvious to the Persians that this was no easy task. The pharaoh built strong defenses and hired thousands of Greek mercenaries to protect his holdings. After a few attempts the Persian armies were driven off in disgrace. One can easily imagine Artaxerxes raging at the Egyptians and the inefficiency of his generals while the other satraps watched and thought.

To show his contempt of the rebels the Great King issued the now famous and widely used double shekels in Phœnicia as a means of propaganda. To the familiar chariot group was added the figure of the pharaoh of Egypt following on foot the chariot of the Persian king. The figure of the pharaoh is in a half sideways position, wearing the Egyptian skirt and high crown. In his right hand he holds a scepter on the end of which appears the head of a horned animal with open jaws. The left hand grasps an enochoe.

The oriental appearance of the coin is almost identical in spirit and design with the countless bas reliefs that appear on the walls of Egyptian and Assyrian palaces of an earlier age. The representation of an eastern monarch riding in his chariot with the defeated enemy following subserviently on foot was an ancient and time honored one and its meaning was not lost on the other subject peoples. If the Great King could not actually conquer the Egyptians, he could at least threaten them with his royal vengeance via the double shekels that the Egyptians commonly used. One of these interesting coins is shown in illustration No. 8.

In 373 B. C. Artaxerxes decided to back up his threat and send in the huge army that his satrap Pharnabazus had been collecting for six years. By summer of that year a force reaching the fantastic figure of a quarter of a million armed men and 300 triremes descended on Egypt for the great all out attempt to regain the wealth of the Nile.

Had Pharnabazus struck decisively he might have succeeded. Rather than use his small but adequate personal army to attack nearby Memphis while that city was weak, he decided to wait for the rest of his vast forces to arrive. The delay was fatal for when the main body did arrive, the great capital city had been reinforced and after a few defeats the inundation of the Nile forced Pharnabazus and his hoard back into Asia.

The pharaoh, Nekhtenebf, had triumphed over the Great King and it was clear to the other parts of the empire that Persia was no longer invincible. Revolts shook the Persian empire to its knees and it reached its lowest ebb until the conquest by Alexander.

Abd' ashtart, the king of Phœnicia, who struck these double shekels, decided to play politics himself and became involved with an ill-fated revolt of Cyprus. After the revolt had been put down by Persia, he knew his treason meant death and planned to stab himself before the Persian army could reach Sidon. After a life of luxurious debauchery he had lost his courage and so just before the troops came to take him before the king, his wife did the deed for him.

Abd' ashtart's successor, Tennes, was full of nothing but praise and loyalty to the Great King. He even changed the design of the double shekel to show his complete subjugation. The figure of the Egyptian king was removed—it had become almost a mockery since the sound defeat of the Great King's armies and in its place appeared the figure of Tennes himself in eastern garb following humbly behind the chariot.

This effusive loyalty was not of long duration for in 348 B. C. he was put to death by Artaxerxes III for another revolt. The successors of Tennes nevertheless continued to keep the same design until the issue was ended by the Alexandrian conquest.

During the whole period of Phœnician coinage (450-335 B.C.) some of the smaller denominations bore unique Persian and Egyptian designs, one of which, a 1/32nd shekel, showed the head of Bes. This Egyptian god was a grotesque dwarflike creature whose duty was to drive away evil and pain and bring pleasure. His worship began in about 1900 B. C. and lasted until the third century A. D.

On the 1/16th shekel appears the Great King slaying a lion exactly as is shown on the relief of a doorway at Persepolis, the fabulous palace of the king and the capital of Persia. This scene is one of the oldest representations in the history of civilized man and its origin fades back into a period before the time of written records. On the cylinder seals and wall decorations of the ancient Sumerians and Babylonians of about 2800 B. C. there are shown nude hero-kings in just such a pose.

The last coinage of Sidon was issued under Mazæus, the wily satrap who switched sides and ruled as governor for Alexander when the tide had turned in the Great King's dominion. This last period of Persian control began in 345 B. C. after turreted walls of the city of Tarsus, later to become famous as the birthplace of St. Paul. Above the walls appears the figure of a lion attacking a bull. This is a familiar design in Persian art of that period and is the heraldic emblem of Per-another revolt in Phœnicia had been put down and Mazæus was given control of Phœnicia in addition to his province of Cilicia.

The Sidonian types remained the same but his other issue for Cilicia is quite interesting. It shows the sepolis itself. No. 9A shows one of these lion-bull staters and No. 9B is its counterpart carved in stone from the facade of the palace at Persepolis. The legend on the coin gives the name of Mazæus and his two holdings.

Byblus began issuing coinage in about 400 B. C. and kept the same type until after the time of Alexander. The designs are similar to the other Phœnician issues, a galley and the lion devouring the bull but there is another feature that is unique on this coinage. It is the figure of a vulture, the symbol of Nekhebet, the goddess of upper Egypt. In Egyptian art this symbol is invariably used in conjunction with the cobra Buto of lower Egypt and are the Egyptian symbols of royalty and power worn on the pharaoh's headdress. In Egyptian mythology the goddess Isis is said to have visited Byblus to search for the corpse of Osiris, so it is not strange that this city should choose Egyptian types.

Second only to Sidon was the ancient and wealthy city of Tyre. It began minting in about 450 B. C. and ceased when Alexander ravaged the city in 332 B. C. Its types are characteristically maritime as are many of the pieces from other Phœnician cities, a dolphin swimming above the waves and Melkart riding a seahorse above a dolphin. The reverses are again in the unique tradition of the Phœnician coinage in general. They show an owl, probably copying the famous Athenian pieces, but behind the bird appears the crook and flail, symbols of Egyptian royalty and closely connected with Osiris worship. Illustration No. 10 shows one of these pieces.

MARYLAND MEDICAL SCHOOL ISSUES MEDAL

The University of Maryland School of Medicine, the nation's fifth oldest medical school, will mark the 150th anniversary of its founding in 1957. In commemoration of this event, the Medical Alumni Association will strike a commemorative medal to be issued on the University's Founders Day, January 20, 1957. The medal will show on the obverse the original building of the School of Medicine the oldest structure in the United States continually used in the teaching of medical students. Surrounding this will be the words 150 YEARS OF MEDICAL EDUCATION 1807-1957. The reverse will be the official seal of the University of Maryland. It is expected that a limited edition in silver will be available, with the remainder being in bronze. As yet, prices have not been announced nor has the actual size of the medal been determined. Inquiries should be addressed to the Medical Alumni Association, University of Maryland, Lombard and Greene Sts. Baltimore 1, Md. An advertisement will appear in subsequent editions of The Numismatist.

SPANISH COMMEMORATIVES

By P. K. ANDERSON, LM 210

SPAIN has issued very few true commemorative coins unless one wishes to include the proclamation pieces which were issued for all Spanish rulers from the time of Philip V (1700-1746). These proclamation pieces were issued by states, cities, churches, schools, guilds and individuals and their primary purpose was to proclaim the ascent to the throne of a new ruler and to swear loyalty and fealty to the new monarch. These pieces were usually medalllic in fabric but a few of them issued in Guatemala and in Mexico carried denominations and

Obverse and reverse of the 5 pesetas, E51, actual size, and an enlargement to show the letter "E."

P. K. Anderson is a governor of the American Numismatic Association. His specialty is the coinage of Spanish-speaking countries.

thus could be called coins. Personally, I shall call them coins but I will be perfectly happy if the medal collectors take them up. They were always distributed free to the populace and were a part of the fiesta that was always held to announce a new monarch.

One more digression, which is a discussion of the Spanish method of dating coins, must be permitted. Beginning in 1869 a new method of dating coins was adopted. At that time all Spanish coins had, somewhere on the coin, two six-pointed stars which were the mint mark of Madrid. The dies of the coins remained the same, even including the date, and the year of striking was placed on the stars. On the larger coins this was done by putting 18 on one star and the decade and unit on the other. Thus we find 5 pesetas of Amadeo I with 18 on one star and 71, 72, 73, 74 or 75 on the other. The smaller coins used only the last two digits of the date. This system was used intermittently through the reign of Alfonso XII and was used on all of the early coins of Alfonso XIII. The present regime revived the custom in 1947 and has continued it to the present day.

The subject of this paper is a set of coins consisting of 5 pesetas, 1 peseta and 50 centimos that were struck at the Second Numismatic Exposition which was held in Madrid from November 18th to December 2, 1951. For the purpose of commemorating this exposition a set of coins was struck in which the 19 that would ordinarily be on one of the stars was replaced by the letter E. The other star has the date 51 as usual. The writer has been unable to discover how many sets were made but his set was marked (on the container) 0157 so the minimum number must be 157.

Discounting the proclamation pieces the only commemorative coins issued by Spain are a 25/1000 of an escudo, in bronze, dated 1868 commemorating the battle of Alcolea. On September 29, 1868 a battle was fought, on the banks of the Guadalquivir, at the bridge of Alcolea, between the revolutionary forces and the army of Queen Isabella. The queen's forces were thrown back and Isabella retired to France where she died in 1904. This coin was undoubtedly struck, or at least ordered, before October 19, 1868 as on that date the decree adopting the peseta as the monetary unit was issued. The six-pointed stars indicate that they were products of the Madrid mint. No record of the number struck has been found but they seem to be plentiful.

ROMAN COINS — The Romans for the first four centuries of their history had no regular coinage, the chief medium of exchange being bronze, circulating by weight aes rude, in lumps of irregular form. It was probably about the middle of the fourth century B.C. that the pound-weight of bronze (12 oz.) was first cast into large unwieldy pieces of circular shape, aes grave, having on the obverse a head of Janus, and on the reverse the prow of a galley. This was the libral as; and its divisions were the semis (6 oz.), the triens (4 oz.), the quadrans (3 oz.), the sextans (2 oz.), and the uncia (1 oz.), each of which bore a distinct type and mark of value. As time went on the as was gradually reduced in weight until (circa 264 B.C.) it stood at no more than 2 oz. At this point the law stepped in and endeavored to check the further debasement of the coin by fixing the weight legally at 2 oz. (sextantal reduction), and by issuing for the first time a silver coin, the denarius, equivalent to 10 asses. The fractions of the silver piece were the quinarius (five asses) and the sestertius (two and a half asses). In 217 B.C. the weight of the as was further legally reduced to 1 oz. (uncial reduction). All these successive reductions were financial expedients, the object of which was to bring a little order into the state currency, which continually tended to become more and more deteriorated. (B. V. Head in Chambers's Encyclopedia, 1891)

H. L. HILL

The Pacific Coast Numismatic Society of San Francisco has been saddened by the news of the death of its oldest charter member, H. L. Hill, 95. He died on September 15. Though he discontinued collecting some years back, he was retained as a member on the roster of the P.C.N.S. with his old Membership No. 3. For the last few years he resided in San Diego.

DAVID R. WILKINSON, A.N.A. 10344

David R. Wilkinson, past president of the Indianapolis Coin Club, died of a heart attack August 19 at the age of 50. Mr. Wilkinson, prominent attorney, head of the legislative department of the Indiana Manufacturers Association, Inc., had been a resident of Indianapolis 35 years. He was a member of the Christian Church and a graduate of Butler University and Indiana University Law School.

Mr. Wilkinson held membership in Sigma Delta Kappa fraternity, Indianapolis Bar Association, Indiana State, American Bar Association, Indianapolis Press Club, Central States Numismatic Society and the American Numismatic Association. He had been admitted to practice before the United States Supreme Court.

Survivors, all of Indianapolis, include the widow, Mrs. Ruth A. Wilkinson; a son, David Ross Wilkinson, Jr., and his mother, Mrs. Florence L. Wilkinson. — L. T.

WAYTE RAYMOND, A.N.A. NO. 396

Wayte Raymond, 69, died September 23 at Roosevelt Hospital, New York City, after a long illness. One of America's leading numismatists, he was noted as a coin dealer and publisher of many works on coins that have become standards. Early in life a bank teller, he formed the United States Coin Co. in 1912, and later, 1934 to 1946, managed the coin department of the Scott Stamp Co.

The Standard Catalogue of U. S. Coins was first issued in 1934 by Mr. Raymond and Coins of the World-Twentieth Century, Coins of the World-Nineteenth Century, the Coin Collector's Journal followed along with a series of coin albums specially designed for improved housing and display of U. S. coins. As a dealer, one of the big collections he handled was that of Col. James W. Ellsworth in 1923.

Mr. Raymond had been a member of the American Numismatic Association for 54 years, having received his 50-year gold medal in 1952. He also belonged to the American Numismatic Society, the New York Numismatic Club, and was a fellow of the Royal Numismatic Society. He was a Mason. Surviving is his widow, Mrs. Olga Osterholm Raymond, 20 Sutton Pl., New York, N. Y. Interment was in the Rowayton, Conn., cemetery.

There were, as of Dec. 31, 1955, $66,192,249.00 of national bank notes outstanding.

WAYTE RAYMOND — A TRIBUTE

The passing of Wayte Raymond marks an end of an era, an era of enlightened numismatics in which Wayte Raymond was the dean and principal guiding light. From his early days in South Norwalk, Conn., to his New York offices as the most reputable of dealers; to his pioneering in popular U. S. and foreign coin catalogs; to his "Coin Topics" and Coin Collector's Journal; to his famous line of coin albums—all gave Wayte Raymond immortality and international renown of the highest order.

There was no series in which Wayte Raymond was not a true expert. From classical coins to American colonial, from coins of the world to paper money, from medals to tokens, his scholarship was combined with an acute sense of realistic rarity based upon his many years of handling famous collections such as Ferrari, J. P. Morgan, W. W. C. Wilson, and many others.

His low ANA number of 396 and his status as benefactor of the American Numismatic Society, which denotes many thousands in gifts of coins to the venerable institution of learning attest to his almost unique position in the future history of U. S. and international numismatics.

The writer has known Mr. Raymond personally for a number of years and will never forget the hours of enlightenment, anecdotes, constructive criticism and encouragement that he was fortunate enough to receive from him. Personally and professionally, his death is truly a sad loss. — RICHARD D. KENNEY

THIRD ANNUAL CNA CONVENTION

Seven states of the United States and four provinces of Canada were represented at the third annual convention of the Canadian Numismatic Association, held in London, Ontario, September 21 and 22. Michigan was represented by 17; Ohio, 8; New York, 7; Illinois, Wisconsin and Oregon, 1 each. Ontario had 84 in attendance, Quebec, 8; Saskatchewan, 4, and Manitoba 2 of the total registration of 133 to make the 1956 convention of the CNA the largest yet. Fifteen dealers had bourse tables.

Highlights of the two session auction, conducted by J. E. Charlton of Toronto, were a Molsons $7.00 bank note dated 1877 at $405.00; Bank of Commerce $5.00 note, 1901, overprinted "Dawson", $140.00; 1921 silver 5 cents VF/XF $250.00; 1925 uncirculated 5c, $43.50; 1875 quarter V.G., $47.00; 1947 half dollar, curved seven, maple leaf rare variety, $170.00; 1937 mint set, $65.00; 1954 Eliz. II $1 to $20 uncirculated bills, matched serial numbers under 100, $58.00; 1858 silver 5¢, large date, about fine $58.00; set of uncirculated large cents 1858 to 1920 complete, but without the rare varieties, $155.00; 1915 dime, B. U., $44.00; Newfoundland 1880 20 cents, unc., $33.00; Newfoundland 1880 dime, unc., $35.00. New records for top quality Canadian coins were set all along the line. A total of 1088 items were sold in nearly eight hours selling.

The London Numismatic Society, largest in Canada, with 82 members, was host for the successful affair, which wound up with a banquet addressed by the president of the CNA, G. R. L. Potter; Major Sheldon Carroll, a CNA past president; Vincent Greene, CNA vice president; Mayor Ray A. Dennis of London. R. S. Yeoman of Racine, Wis., spoke on behalf of visiting United States members of the CNA. The banquet was attended by 102. — BYRON A. SWAYZE.

CONVENTION HIGHLIGHTS: CHICAGO, 1956

By GENE DE NISE

THE CHICAGO A.N.A. convention of 1956 is now part of history as far as the record is concerned—but in a thousand memories it will be re-lived for months to come. Not being a second Dunninger, I can't speak for all the gentlemen who attended, but only for those who expressed their impressions to me. But the women are still writing after a month's time recalling the many events planned for them by the gracious hostesses of the area.

By way of welcome, a lovely reception and card party (complete with gifts for every lady) was climaxed by the uncanny and sometimes very accurate palm reading of Madame De Haas. While MRS. AUGUST HAUSSKE nonchalantly ladled punch, the line-up was terrific for a reading. Even the ladies playing cards could hardly wait their turn and I heard that POLLY DODSON trumped her partner's ace. MRS. ORIN IMIG was told that she will soon own much Chicago real estate, so ORIN had better start liquidating his Bloomington assets. RHENDA CAME, ELIZABETH DONNER, and LILLIAN MATHEWS, all dealers wives, found out that they are going to acquire great wealth in the future. We know why, don't we, after watching the "coin market exchange" quotations on the bulletin boards in the bourse rooms? We caught OPAL MORRIS kibitzing a foursome including ANNA MERLE PANOSH, POLLY DODSON, LOUISE BELL and MARION YEOMAN. I seem to recall that I snapped a pic of her both last year and the year before, in this same role. Haven't figured out whether it's because she does or doesn't know her bridge. We know that MARION'S first love is RICHARD but he has close competition because she has an outstanding collection of playing cards. POLLY and her OSCAR were welcome additions to the fold this year, after two years in the Mediterranean area. We didn't hear either of them speaking Greek, but the Captain showed us some superb slides of the Greek countryside at the educational panel on Thursday evening.

On Wednesday noon, Mrs. Prexy (ANNA MERLE PANOSH) entertained the wives of the officers at a beautifully appointed luncheon. During this hour the Prexy entertained the officers, but this last mentioned social event was strictly stag, hence no report unless the Editor wants to disclose what went on behind closed doors.

It is very easy to digress as we tell you about this wonderful convention. Because I know more about the women's activities than the men's, I planned to tell you more about these, also because the exhibits, bourse, and auction are pretty well covered in the October issue. But somehow the men creep in here and there, very like men, don't you know? As usual the word got around that there was punch in the Pine Room, and the men developed a terrible thirst.

At former conventions one has gone into the joint exhibit and bourse room and stayed there most of the day (except for stated business and auction sessions). Not so in Chicago! One worked off excess energy as long as it lasted by going from the second to the first to the third and back to the second floors many times a day, because the bourse and the exhibits were divided among all three floors, and the business and auction sessions were on the third floor also. And only those of us who became lost going from the odd to the even numbered rooms (forgetting that it took two different elevators from the fourth floor up) know more about the labyrinth than a collector of ancient coins.

Speaking of coins always reminds me of "P. K." ANDERSON. He forgot to bring with him his usual assortment of battered odds and ends so he bought a handful of ancient unknowns from a dealer. From then on, every meal or cocktail hour was spent trying to unravel the mystery of "what was which." "P. K." is a real honest to goodness collector who doesn't go in strong for AU or BU or proof, but who likes to know that the coins he has were actually used to purchase commodities, actually jingled in someone's pocket or were hidden in a crock under someone's abode during a massacre. He can name every province of Spain, whether under Roman rule, or Franco's, and every possession of Spain since time immemorial, and almost anything else you want to know about Spain and her coinage.

Lincoln cent was featured on the programs which DOROTHY POWILLS made for the children. These were cork booklets shaped like Illinois, with yellow roads leading to Chicago, the land of Lincoln, marked by a shiny new Lincoln cent. DOT also planned and executed the children's activities, and had her hands full because most of the youngsters this year were wee ones, our erstwhile teenagers having become substantial young citizens. There weren't very many in-betweeners. The events for the youngsters included a pow-wow (get acquainted party), a cook-out with plenty of hot dogs and a bit of rain, a science tour of the aquarium and planetarium, and a talent show with a magician. Hats off to a brave woman and all who helped her! DOT also made the hundreds of daisies in the clever centerpieces for the women's luncheon at the Kungsholm.

I mentioned our shortage of teenagers. This year most of them were holding confabs about the various colleges they attend or are going to start attending this year. KIKI JUDD, JOHN DODSON, MARTHA REAGAN, PATTY POWILLS, TED GOLD and KENNETH MARICH and all the other "nuisances" of four or five years ago have reached the austere age where they like to plan their own entertainment. Boy, does this make me feel old — bring my cane and rocking chair, father!

This year meal times and evenings were almost the only times that we saw couples sitting, talking, and walking together. The women were so well taken care of that the men spent uninterrupted days with their old cronies, favorite dealers, or just scurrying around taking it all in.

We were glad to see that our very dear old friend JULIUS WINDNER was able to be up and about again, and strong enough to come to CHI-ANA. He worked on the designs for two new medals for the Association and brought the plans with him to get ideas from the membership. A newcomer to the national convention was DR. CARL WESTMARK, of Oak Park. You will remember he is the fellow who put us on the trail of the numismatic books of the Crerar Library which we purchased in 1954.

Another familiar feature of all conventions is LEW PANOSH'S smoke ring. It is more fun to watch him blow smoke rings than to listen to most speeches and far more entertaining. I've tried to get a picture of that smoke ring for years, but at the moment the camera clicked, the ring would hit a lamp shade or dissolve into thin air. This year I caught a "beaut." The only reason I ever thought I might take up cigar smoking is so that I might make smoke rings like LEW'S! It's a temptation.

JEAN BRADFELD and MARCELLA SHELDON come in for a big hand for all the ladies activities and especially for that wonderful afternoon at the Kungsholm restaurant where 169 ladies sampled more than 100 different delicacies and witnessed the ingenious puppet show at the Kungsholm theater. (It always irks me that I am invited to dinner after having had a repast like this smorgasbord, but it could be why the invitation was tendered for that specific evening. It certainly saved my host some money.)

We had the usual wedding celebrations, now almost annual events. M. VERNON SHELDON and MAR-

CELLA and SOL and VIVIAN KAPLAN celebrated their anniversaries. And while we are in the vital statistics department, HARRY and TILLIE BOOSEL announced that they are expecting to complete their type set in about three months.

Now we'll skip a beat and go to the awards session. Notable fact was that first place in the United States division was won by BRUCE BARTHOLOW of Santa Monica, Calif. BRUCE has been borrowing library books ever since he joined less than two years ago, and this proves that it pays off.

Mr. and Mrs. SAMUEL WEST of New Jersey, in colonial costume, impersonated town criers and welcomed members to Philadelphia in 1957. JOHN SLUSHER of Portland, Ore., presented an invitation to hold the 1959 convention in the Rose City, and brought along V. A. McNEIL of the Portland Chamber of Commerce to support his plea. They won their case. Other invitations for future conventions were presented by NORMAN MASON of Toronto, J. J. CURTO of Detroit, WALTER BOHLER of Denver, and KEITH CANAN of Indianapolis.

Almost forgot to mention that we had a canine delegate, BROWNIE, who accompanied her folks, MORRIS and RUTH HAMMELL from Youngstown, Ohio. Because BROWNIE was not allowed to stay over night in the Congress, they had to find quarters elsewhere. She was a most well behaved girl, always very polite and rather shy and in a moment of nearness she confided that she thought dogs should have a pocket for their coins.

We must also mention that indefatigable couple, HELEN and EARL BROWN, each busy at different tasks all the time, right hand help to General Chairman GLENN SMEDLEY and Ladies Activities Chairman JEAN BRADFELD. BLANCHE KLEIN and KAY CURTIS also took turns at the registration desk, as did the TED RICHES and ETHEL POKORNEY. Of course HAROLD KLEIN pulled some of his usual shenanigans. While on a visit to Chinatown the KLEINS bought their offspring some party snappers and favors, but before the close of the Saturday night banquet, HAROLD had tossed all the confetti out to the surrounding tables. Pretty stuff it was, too!

COL. JIM CURTIS M C'd his usual excellent club representatives breakfast in his own inimitable manner. In fact, said manner is so engaging, or the food is so free, that this marked the last breakfast of this kind. Too many "door-crashers" want admittance claiming to be authorized club representatives (without a card) — could be the wonderful food and fellowship and of course it could be the excellent ideas that emerge from the spirited discussions. Ironically, COL. JIM couldn't make himself heard during the first part of the discussion until he moved out from under the large glass hat suspended from the ceiling. But he really wasn't talking through his hat—he was talking straight from the shoulder about means of making and keeping clubs and club programs interesting and alive. Here LEWIS REAGAN, LEW PANOSH, ELDRIDGE JONES, ARTHUR SIPE, MATT ROTHERT, BURTON SAXTON, JOHN PITTMAN, PETER PAYNE, CLYDE GRIMM and many others added encouraging ideas concerning club exhibits, program, growth and publicity. This was the best and snappiest club representatives' breakfast we have ever had. One of the best features was a talk from our Editor, ELSTON BRADFELD, about the need for specific articles for The Numismatist, and the type of club reports he would like to have for the magazine.

"SMILIN' BILL" CHEOROS, president of the Orders and Medals Society of America, was in evidence throughout the whole session. He's the kind of a fellow who makes friends, and I'll wager keeps them. This Society has had hard sledding, but folks like BILL and F. W. MAC-KAY should help resuscitate it. The OMSA exhibited its orders and decorations in a special room with the local society making up a joint exhibit of the medals of World War II. Especially intriguing was the case of miniatures of RICHARD

ROSHOLM. If you have tried to collect these you will know that they are difficult to obtain. (I might have been detained in the Cook County jail if they hadn't been in a locked case.)

We are sorry that we have to leave so many of you out of this broadcast. Our organization and conventions are getting so large that this column must be a bit like the club reports — condensed. It is a wonderful thing that the human mind and heart are so great that they are capable of containing a niche for each new friend we make at convention — but The Numismatist, although substantially larger, just doesn't have that much space.

All good things must come to an end. Now if Philadelphia will order the wonderful weather that Chicago gave us, and all of you will be with us, we will meet together for a grand reunion in 1957. Thank you, Chicago! On to Philadelphia!

SPECIAL BENJAMIN FRANKLIN NUMBER

In honor of the 250th anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin, the December, 1956, issue of The Numismatist will be a special number given over entirely to Franklin and his influence on American numismatics. It will be made up of about a dozen illustrated articles on all phases of the subject, bringing together for the first time the story of this many-faceted genius and his part in our monetary and medallion history. The single copy price will be $1.00 and it is suggested that advance orders be placed with General Secretary Lewis M. Reagan, P.O. Box 577, Wichita, Kans., immediately. A.N.A. members and subscribers will receive the issue as part of their regular subscription, of course. — The Editor.

Canadian Cents of 1858, 1859

Dear Sir:

It was with considerable interest that I read the report of Alexander Watt's findings concerning Canadian provincial cents of 1858 and 1859 which appeared in the September Numismatist. For some time I, too, have been studying these coins.

From an examination of over a hundred of the 1859 coins, my findings include none with stems on leaves No. 5 or 7. Most of the coins were in extremely fine condition or better and included numerous overdates. One coin in my own collection has a heavy die break from the rim through leaves Nos. 5, 6 & 7 and back to the rim. The break is so located that it gives the impression that leaf No. 5 has a stem. A close examination through a strong magnifying glass seems to indicate that no real stem is present.

I have not found any stemless leaves on the 1858 cents. This is in no way conclusive as the coins available to me have been limited. If any other collectors have similar reports, I should like to hear them.

"L" on the Ribbon

Dear Sir:

I have just discovered in my collection of Indian cents a 1909 (plain) with an "L" on the ribbon in the same place as the 1864 "L." Also I have a 1907 and 1908 Indian cent with an "L" on the ribbon. I was under the impression that only the 1864 cent was made with an "L" on the ribbon.

Do all Indian cents since 1864 have an "L" on the ribbon?

"Pay as Momy"

Dear Sir:

First of all, I want to thank you for printing my letter about Manning, Iowa wooden nickels in the August issue of The Numismatist. I have really enjoyed answering all the requests that I received.

The main reason for my writing, however, is the quotation that I have written below:

"They give the title of merchant to every trader; who Rate their Goods according to the time and spetia they pay in: viz. Pay, momy, Pay as momy, and trusting. Pay is Grain, Pork, Beef, &c. at prices sett by the General Court that Year; momy is pieces of Eight, Rayalls, or Boston or bay shillings (as they call them), or Good hard money as sometimes silver coin is termed by them; also Wampom, viz. Indian beads which serves for change. Pay as momy is provisions, as aforesaid one Third cheaper then as the Assembly or General Court sets it; and Trust as they and the merchant agree for time.

"Now, when the buyer comes to ask for a comodity, sometimes before the merchant answers that he has it, he sais, is Your pay redy? Perhaps the Chap Reply's Yes: what do you pay in? say's the merchant. The buyer having answered, then the price is sett; as suppose he wants a sixpenny knife, in pay it is 12d — in pay as momy eight pence, and hard money its own price, viz. 6d. It seems a very Intricate way of trade and what Lex Mercatoria had not thought of."

This passage is taken from: Journal of a Journey, by Sarah Kembel Knight (1666-1727), Literature of the Americas, Laidlaw Brothers, Inc. Publishers, Chicago, Edited by John E. Brewton, Babette Lemon, Russell A. Sharp, and Louise Abney. As you can readily see, the word spelling is as it was in the original manuscript.

This story or diary entry was written by Sarah Kembel Knight on a journey that she took in the fall and winter of 1704-1705 from Boston to New York. When Mrs. Knight made this trip, she was probably the first woman to have done so on horseback, and incidentally she was unchaperoned.

I am submitting this in the hope that you will deem it of enough interest to coin collectors to publish it in one of the issues of our very well edited magazine, The Numismatist.

Lovett's Cent

Editor:

Mr. Hooper, in his article on the Confederate cent in the September issue, wonders why Robert Lovett, Jr. used the same Liberty Head on his Confederate cent as appeared also on his personal store card dated 1860. If Lovett did have any pangs of remorse in 1861, another question goes begging as to why this same Confederate head was used on the very many varieties of Northern Civil War tokens that Lovett also manufactured.

It is interesting to note that the 1860 store card was Lovett's first of the small cent size; he, his brothers George H. and John D. and their father Robert Lovett, Sr., all produced personal store cards of the large cent size, up to 1860. Why then, R. L. Jr.'s sudden shift to the small cent size on the fourth year of the U. S. small cent issue? Can it be that the date 1860 is fictitious? Would it not be more likely that it was actually struck in 1863 when Lovett used it as a sample to show other merchants who might be interested in placing orders for the then necessary Civil War tokens? Since the tokens, patriotics and store cards, were readily used as currency, Lovett merely wanted to avoid confusion of his own non-monetary token with others of his manufacture which were expressly made for circulation. There is no question but that Adams (PA.) 353-356, Lovett's store card, is not too common, as a die-sinker did not find it necessary to offer many samples due to the limited number of merchants involved. Lovett, in the opinion of the writer, had already produced the C.S.A. 1861 pattern before his 1860 dated store card.

Evidence to the contrary may possibly be produced via research in 1860-1862 auction catalogs. The writer is willing to be corrected by such evidence, but was interested in getting the letter in this issue in order to maintain a little lively discussion in the grand tradition of The Numismatist of yesteryear.

Coins From Machines

Dear Sir:

I thought you might be interested in one of the newest methods of selling coins. Our local Grant store has installed a machine similar to a gum ball machine, but when you insert a five cent piece you received a foreign minor coin in a plastic ball instead of gum. The coins appear to be in very fine to uncirculated condition with most being uncirculated. Some of the coins I have received in this manner are: Argentina, 1952, 5 centavos; Pakistan, 1951, 1 pie; Somalia, 1950, 1 centesimo; Mexico, 1955, 1 centavo; and Switzerland, 1955, 1 centime. I would imagine that this means of placing coins before the public could very well start some youngsters on the way toward a future hobby of coin collecting.

That 1838 Lettered Edge Half Dollar

Dear Sir:

On page 1000 of the September Numismatist with reference to the letter from Mr. Cole on the lettered edge half dollar of 1838, reverse 50¢, I don't know the answer but I would like to add that I have a similar coin dated 1837 and have kept it for a period of years with the hope of finding the answer. I also have a Liberty head half dollar, 50¢ on the reverse, with reeded edge, dated 1842! If there is any explanation, I, too, am interested.

— MRS. HARRY CUTLER
A.N.A. No. 13448
311 Grant Ave.
San Francisco, Calif.

Dear Sir:

In regard to the 1838 so-called half dollar illustrated in the September 1956 Numismatist, this is not the first time that the question of authenticity of these particular pieces has been raised. A similar coin was illustrated in the Numismatist 56:173 (1943). Illustrations of several similar pieces, though of different dates appeared in the Numismatic Review 2 (No. 8):15 (1945). In the latter article Mr. Lohr did not feel that these pieces were authentic, since all were found in worn condition, and none has been reported in uncirculated condition. Recently another specimen was illustrated in the Coin Collector for July, 1956, and a reply from the writer was printed in the August, 1956, issue.

It is the writer's opinion that all specimens of this description are outright counterfeits, but far above average ones. Similar pieces are known with various dates in the 1820s, with many others known in the 1830s. They are mostly struck pieces in either copper or a nickel composition. Presumably the copper pieces were originally silver plated. All specimens seen by the author have shown signs of wear and none is from the same dies as authentic U. S. mint pieces.

Our tentative conclusion would be that these pieces are well struck counterfeits, possibly struck in Germany, about 1850. That they were good counterfeits can be evidenced by the fact that they all show signs of wear. Undoubtedly, the silver-plated copper pieces were discarded as soon as the plating wore off. The fact that the 1838 specimen illustrated has a lettered edge might be explained by the hypothesis that these pieces were struck outside this country. They would have limited knowledge of the U. S. currency, and not have known that the use of lettered edge pieces ceased in 1836. Some of the pieces dated in the 1820s I have seen with plain edges, although I do not recall seeing any with reeded edges.

The late Stuart Mosher accumulated quite a number of these pieces and was of the opinion that they were outright counterfeits. He presented the author with several specimens some years ago. The writer has discussed these pieces with several colleagues, and they held similar opinions as to the origin.

One final word of caution to the collector. Do not purchase any so-called U. S. pattern coins that are in worn condition. It is highly probable that quite a number of pieces sold as being listed in Adams and Woodin are these so-called halves (see for instance AW No. 34, 35 and 36 and others of later dates). Any genuine pattern coin should be in uncirculated or proof condition, preferably the latter. Some of the restrikes of pattern coins made for Joseph Mickley (see AW 585 and others) are definitely not mint products and are found crudely struck. Other restrikes of coins from original dies are also known (see for instance The Standard Catalogue of United States Coins for 1954-55, page 169).

Perhaps in a few cases there are legitimate reasons for some patterns to be found in worn condition if they were used as pocket pieces or accidentally found their way into circulation. However, as a general statement: Beware of any so-called pattern coins that are not in uncirculated or proof condition — chances are that they are counterfeits!

Numismatic-Philatelic Dinner

Carnegie Museum in Pittsburgh is planning a big event for local coin and stamp collectors. Stamp and coin clubs in the area are invited to hold a joint annual dinner at the museum on Nov. 14, 1956. An attendance of 150 to 200 is expected. The guest of honor and speaker will be Franklin R. Bruns, Jr., philatelic curator of the Smithsonian Institution. The affair is informal and stag. There will be souvenirs for all who attend, as well as door prizes. A special exhibition is planned. There will also be an auction of museum duplicates of both stamps and coins. Tickets are $3.50 and can be obtained from Charles Wise, Vice President of Alling & Cory Co., River Ave., W. Pittsburgh, Pa.

South Australian Society Meets

The 30th annual meeting of the Numismatic Society of South Australia was held in Adelaide September 13. It was a highlight in that it was the largest such gathering in the history of the group. The evening was divided between business, numismatic quiz, exhibitions, a supper and election. Among the new officers are R. M. Grieg, president, and J. Hunt Deacon, secretary and editor. Honorary members from the United States reappointed were Lewis M. Reagan, Elston G. Bradfield and the late Wayne Raymond. One decision of the meeting was that each member will write to at least four overseas members during the ensuing year.

Olympic Games Medallion

Following on its policy of periodically striking medals to commemorate outstanding events in Australian history, the Numismatic Association of Victoria, Australia, has struck this year one in silver and bronze to perpetuate the XVI Olympic Games, which are being held in Melbourne from November 22nd to December 8th. Only 100 pieces have been struck, 60 in silver, 40 in bronze; each is numbered and no further striking will be made.

The obverse was designed by W. E. Curran, E.D., F.R.N.S., and the die engraved and the medallions struck by K. G. Luke Pty.Ltd of Melbourne.

The obverse shows in an incuse field, and to the right, a representation of a two drachma coin of SYBRITA, bearing head of DIONYSOS facing right. A palm branch crosses the lower left of the field, with XVI Olympiad in Greek letters followed by MELBOURNE.

The reverse bears the words BY THIS MEDAL, WE COMMEMORATE THE OLYMPIC GAMES HELD IN MELBOURNE, NOVEMBER 22 TO DECEMBER 8, 1956. in seven lines. Below, following the rim NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION OF VICTORIA in a ribbon. Further particulars may be obtained from the Secretary, N.A.V. 83 Barkly St., St. Kilda, Melbourne, Australia.

A Sad Tale

Dear Editor:

Last summer, when talking to the owner of a small store, I mentioned that I was a coin collector, and wondered if he had ever saved any in the course of his many years of business. He said he had saved many coins in his youth, but there was a tale that went with his collecting.

In 1917, when war was changing people's lives, and the urge to offer his services to Uncle Sam came upon him, he thought about many loose ends of his daily life and possessions. One, a quart jar of money, was his pride and joy. Half of the coins were wrapped in tissue, and in his words were "beautiful." The balance were early dates and included ten three-dollar gold pieces. All were U. S. coins. He placed the quart jar which had a zinc lid inside of an empty gallon paint bucket. He then buried the can under the dirt floor of his mother's cellar. Telling no one, and certain that no one knew of his secret, he took off for the wars.

When he came back two years later he couldn't find where he had hidden his coins and although he has searched many times, and dug up many spots he cannot locate his treasure. He inherited the house from his mother and has lived in it since, but the coins are still hidden. Not needing the money he has not worried too much over the years, but insists that they are still in his cellar and that he might "take a notion and really find them." All you collectors with spades — the line forms to the right!

From New Zealand

Dear Mr. Bradfield:

Greetings from New Zealand collectors to all our A.N.A. numismatic friends. I am one of the few collectors of United States coins in Auckland and at the moment my specialty is cents. A week ago I picked up a 1912-S uncirculated cent and my attention was attracted by the word LIBERTY to the left of Lincoln's head, wherein LI are missing. There is no sign of the two letters and no wear around their usual position. I should be interested to hear from anyone who has a similar coin.

Complete New Zealand sets dated 1933 to 1953 are becoming increasingly hard to get here. They include the rare Waitangi crown, the 1935 threepence and the 1951 half crown.

The Royal Numismatic Society of New Zealand, a member of the A.N.A., is growing rapidly. The parent body is in Wellington and two branches elsewhere. At the moment we are pressing for the introduction of decimal coinage in New Zealand. Also, a distinctive society badge is in the offing.

I would be extremely pleased to hear from American friends. Perhaps some would like to have a few New Zealand coins.

Book Review

"Oversize Multiple Talers of the Brunswick Duchies and Saxe-Lauenburg" by John S. Davenport, with a preface by Henry Grunthal and valuations by Mark M. Salton, published by the author, Knox College, Galesburg, Ill., 1956, illus., 80 pages, $10.00.

From the pen of Dr. Davenport has come this valuable contribution to the multiple thaler collector. Two most outstanding aspects of the work are the 79 illustrations (natural size) of the different types, with obverses and reverses of 78 shown. The work progresses from the first ten-thaler piece struck by Duke Julius of Wolfenbuttel in 1574 to the last dated striking by Ernst August of New Luneburg in 1688.

The text is extremely simple to follow, each ruler and date following in order, with all the multiples of the same ruler appearing on the same page. Dr. Davenport has used the famous sales and thaler-cabinets of Knigge, Fiala, Rosenberg, Knyp-hausen, Schulthess-Rechberg, Jacques Schulman, Hamburger, Cahn, Schlessinger, Helbing, and many others in the compilation of his book. He gives an excellent bibliography.

Henry Grunthal relates a brief historical background of the Dukes of Brunswick in a preface to the main work. Among other remarks he says that this is a most valuable contribution to the collector because it is the first book on the subject written in English. Mr. Grunthal also notes that the valuation guide will be especially useful. This valuation guide was prepared by Mark M. Salton, and Dr. Davenport warns the student that the valuations must be approximations only, and that those items with a valuation of over $600 merely indicate pieces of great rarity.

The book is folio size, 78 pages, and bound in fine red linen. This edition was limited to 400 copies. It is listed in the library of the American Numismatic Association under the number D-70. — GENE DENISE

When we described the Platt & Co.'s piece in the July, 1954 Numismatist, page 718, we did not know of the existence of this piece and learned of it through Lionel Rudduck. Max Schwartz owns the second one of this type known to us. As it is one of the series, we have assigned it Adams Md. 121A.

Reverse: In three lines 158 / W. FAYETTE / STREET.

Metal-nickel, size 13½, border no. 2, plain edge, issued 1871-72, unlisted, except as H. Storer No. 1033.

A rare Baltimore token, unknown to Duffield and Williams. We are indebted to Dr. H. Storer for giving us the complete description of the coin.

In his book Medicina in Numis, under number 1033, he listed the piece with the following description:

"FERRY - 'Dr.' C. S. Ferry, Baltimore, Md. a graduate in surgery, with 20 years experience in Chirpody." (The piece described is in the collection of the Boston Medical Library.)

Because of some apparent discrepancies, we will quote the directories of Baltimore for several years: 1867 - Dr. M. J. Ferrey, 174 N. High St.

1868-69 - Not listed.

1870 - Dr. J. M. Ferrey, Vapor Baths - 60 N. High St.

1871-72 - Dr. M. J. Ferrey, Turko-Russian Baths, 158 W. Fayette St.

1873-76 - Dr. M. J. Ferrey, Turko-Russian baths, 54 N. Liberty St.

1877-82 - Dr. C. S. Ferrey, 54 N. Liberty St.

1883 - Dr. C. S. Ferry (note spelling), 54 N. Liberty St.

1884 - Dr. C. S. Ferrey, 35 N. Calvert St.

1885 - Dr. C. S. Ferrey.

1886 - Not listed.

The only year that spelling is given as Ferry was in 1883 and one must assume that this is an error. Apparently C. S. was either a son or brother of M. J. Ferrey. Because of the address, the piece must be of the period 1871-72, being issued by Dr. M. J. Ferrey. This may account for its scarcity, being only used for two years with a probable spelling error. Dr. Storer apparently is mistaken in attributing the coin to Dr. C. S. Ferrey. The piece in the writer's possession measures 1 mm. larger than that listed by Storer.

Metal-copper, size 12½, border no. 1, edge plain, probably issued in period 1830-40. Adams Pa. 163, Raymond Pa. 12 — very rare.

This rather unusual piece was supposedly issued in Philadelphia about 1830. The 12½ cent piece was called Metal-German silver, size 13¼, border no. 4, plain edge, unlisted and extremely rare.

The die work is definitely that of Koehler, the reverse being identical a levy in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, etc. This is an abbreviation of eleven-pence, the value of the coin when the dollar was rated at 7 shillings 6 pence at which the reale was current at one eighth of a dollar or 12½ cents. Further north the same piece was called a shilling and in the south a bit.

This token's rarity can be attested by the fact that Dr. Hettrich's almost complete collection of Pennsylvania tokens did not contain a specimen.

to the reverse of the Concordia token, Md. Adams 39.

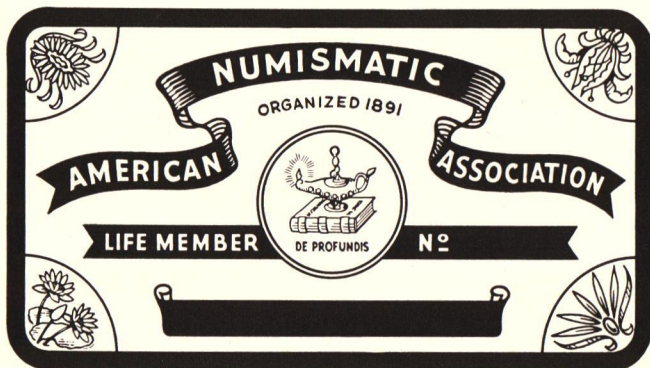

Richard Cromwell was a Baltimore merchant, who first appears in the Baltimore directories in 1864. From 1864 to 1868 he is listed as a dealer in agricultural and horticultural implements and as a manufacturer and seedsman at 46 & 48 Light St. and 89 N. Paca St. From 1869-72 he was located at 35 South St., in 1873 at York Rd. near North Ave. and at 51 Light St. in 1874. In 1875, the firm name became R. Cromwell and S. Congdon at the same address. The piece was undoubtedly issued in the period 1864 to 1870.

The piece illustrated here is the discovery piece from the George Williams collection. It was unknown to Adams, Wright and Duffield.

J. J. CURTO, A.N.A. No. 9641

MIKE KIRK:

55 1/4 A Obv. — MIKE KIRK — INDIAN — TRADER — MANUELITO, N.M.

Rev. — GOOD FOR — 1.00 — IN TRADE.

Brass — 33 mm. or 20/16 of an inch.

55 1/8 B 50¢ similar — 30 mm. or 18/16 of an inch.

55 1/8 C 25¢ similar — 26 mm. or 16/16 of an inch.

55 1/8 D 10¢ similar — 23 mm. or 14/16 of an inch.

55 1/8 E 5¢ similar — 20 mm. or 12/16 of an inch.

Manuelito, N. M., is a small station stop between Gallup, N. M., and Holbrook, Ariz. It was just a trading post for many years, now lists 40 inhabitants.

55 1/4 A One dollar.

Obv. — M.E. KIRK — GALLUP, N.M., an ornament in center.

Rev. — GOOD FOR — 1.00 — IN — MERCHANDISE.

Alum — 33 mm. or 21/16 of an inch.

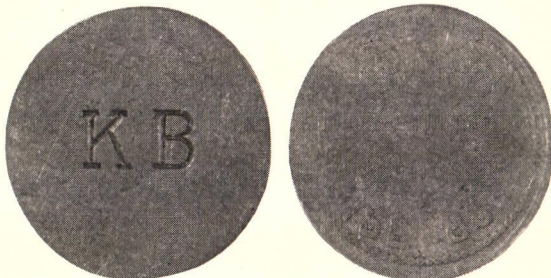

55 1/4 B 50¢ similar — 30 mm. or 18/16 of an inch.

55 1/4 E 5¢ similar — 20 mm. or 12/16 of an inch.

The 55 1/4 series of M. E. Kirk were later countermarked "KB" for Kirk Brothers, M. (Mike) E. Kirk & John Kirk. The Kirk Brothers went to Gallup, N. Mex., after 1900. John worked for C. W. Cotton for a short time and then bought out one of the McAdams. (Per Mrs. Ruth Kirk, wife of John Kirk, now residing in Denver, Colo.) All of the specimens of the countermarked 1.00 denominations I have seen have the obverse ground smooth before countermarking, the other denominations not so ground. This series is designated as a variety.

Reports of Club Meetings

SECRETARIES PLEASE NOTE: Reports should be made promptly. Copy must be received by the 7th of the month to insure insertion in the following month's issue. Sometimes a carbon copy of the minutes is sent in, and almost invariably a number of items of local concern only must be cancelled. The justification for publishing these accounts lies in the numismatic information - and encouragement - to be derived by collectors generally, regardless of location. On this basis we feel it advisable to revise and condense, and, incidentally, the by-product of this course is conservation of valuable space. All copy should be typewritten, double-spaced, and written on one side of the paper only. Please condense your reports and write them so they conform to the style of those printed below. Your cooperation will be greatly appreciated.

BALTIMORE COIN CLUB - 516th meeting, Sept. 6. Auction.

A committee consisting of President Phillips, Messrs. Jackson and Henry was formed for the purpose of securing new coins for members at face or at least wholesale.

Mr. Roberts called attention to the recent appointment of William F. Perlitz (one of our active charter members) as assistant treasurer of Ann Arundel County, Md.

Charles E. McCormick ably described and commented on Edgar Burke's complete collection of small size one dollar notes.

- ELDEN E. LIGHT
Secretary

CENTRAL CALIFORNIA COIN CLUB

— 28th meeting called to order by Pres. Warren Clear, Sept. 10, 23 present. Upon arrival at the Monterey Public Library, our usual meeting place, we found the library locked up due to a California state holiday, Admission Day. We had no notice of this holiday. Not to be denied under such adverse conditions, we proceeded to hold an informal meeting in front of the library with informal conversation and trading. With no other place to go, our "meeting under the stars" proved to be quite a success until called on account of darkness. In the future we hope to hold our meetings under more normal conditions.

— KENNETH L. HALLENBECK, JR.
Secretary-Treasurer

CHICAGO COIN CLUB — 452nd meeting, Sept. 12; 83 present; Pres. Elston G. Bradfield presided.

Glenn Smedley reported on the 1956 convention and distributed special "Order of the Unsung Hero" awards to the men and women of the club who had been active on convention committees. The members then gave Mr. Smedley a round of applause and a rising vote to acknowledge the work which he had done so well as chairman of the 1956 A.N.A. convention.

Ted Pokorney presented a short paper called "The Rose of Rhodes" which gave background data about the didrachm of Rhodes. This was the first paper presented in competition for the club's literary award medal during the second season.

Exhibits:

Benjamin Odesser: Two bronze medals of Christ and Moses with Hebrew inscriptions. Mr. Odesser discussed the evidence which led him to conclude that the medals were dated about 1600.

CORN BELT COIN CLUB — 69th meeting, Sept. 10; Pres. James Greer presiding; 51 present; auction. Mr. Greer gave a very interesting talk about his trip through the Denver mint last summer. A nice collection of uncirculated coins in plastic cases was displayed by Owen Imig. Some of the highlights of the Chicago convention were related by Lee Sherrill, Dr. Ahroon and Mr. Imig.

— BOB OKELL
Secretary

DAYTON COIN CLUB — 194th meeting Sept. 9, Waldruhe Park, Dayton, Ohio; 40 present, Pres. H. C. Banner presided. This meeting combined club activities with the annual outdoor picnic featuring softball, badminton and horse shoes. In the three-hour-long competition for supremacy at horse shoes the declared winning team consisted of Raymond Billet and H. C. Banner.

— IAN HARDCASTLE
Secretary

EAST LIVERPOOL COIN CLUB — Meeting Sept. 11, at the Y.M.C.A., Pres. Fred Snowden presiding; 24 members present. The program featured wooden money, with many exhibits displayed. Clarence Bell gave an interesting talk on wooden "nickels," and exhibited the plates used in printing of the Wellesville, Ohio issue. He also exhibited a large strip of the veneer that was used in the process. Wellesville, our neighboring city, sponsored, designed, printed and distributed their entire issue without any outside help, and it was a huge success from the financial angle. Anyone desiring information on this subject should contact Mr. Bell at the post-office of Wellesville, Ohio.

This club will celebrate its 15th anniversary on November 13th. Members of neighboring clubs are invited to attend. Lunch will be served. Election of new officers will also be held at this meeting.

The widespread interest in numismatics is beginning to show with heart-warming welcome in our area and many new faces are showing up at our meetings. Many youngsters are ardent fans which indicates that the great hobby will continue with great force in the future.

— OLIVER A. MILES
Publicity Chairman

FORT WORTH COIN CLUB — 24th meeting Sept. 6, auditorium of the Frisco Building, 700 West Vickery Blvd.; auction; Phil Wygant, president, presided, 56 present. The newly received metal display cases were shown and many lamented their failure to place personal orders when available. James K. Hitch, local member of the Orders and Medals Society of America, spoke on "Some Famous Medals and their Places in History," displaying his excellent collection, notably British and American campaign medals and decorations, beginning with the Dunbar medal, 1650.

— FAITH LEWIS

HEART OF AMERICA NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION — 246th meeting, Stewart Sand & Material Bldg., Aug. 20; Pres. Hart D. Mayer presiding; auction; 76 present.

Exhibits:

Milo Keen: Indian and Lincoln cents, misc. American coins.

Leo Sams: Display of early American currency.

Milo Keen gave a very interesting talk entitled "Every Person Should Have a Hobby." Coin collecting, he said, is one of the very few hobbies that will pay you a very good return on your investment. A true numismatist dislikes to sell coins. Is there a profit in coins? He answered yes. He gave for example an 1856 Flying Eagle which he bought in 1916 for $1.50, sold to Max Mehl the next year for $5.00, repurchased from him for $7.50 and resold to him in 1930 for $85.00. Other examples he gave was the 1909-S, V.D.B. which he purchased uncirculated in 1918 for $1.00 and the Lafayette dollar as late as 1949 for $10.00.

The following from H.A.N.A. attended the A.N.A. Convention in Chicago: Mr. and Mrs. Hart D. Mayer, B. A. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Galen Whitt, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Brown, John Hansan.

— BUFORD A. ELLIS

— J. E. HIGGINS
Secretary-Treasurer

MILWAUKEE NUMISMATIC SOCIETY — 264th meeting Sept. 19, Ambassador Hotel.

Mr. Porter, our president, welcomed the numerous guests. Mr. Culver our official club representative at the national convention gave a few of the highlights of the great convention. Chicago broke the record for attendance — 1,029 registrants. The auctions realized exceptionally high prices, the displays were terrific and of course the growth of the ANA is outstanding.

Everyone is welcome to our Milwaukee annual banquet which will be held November 3rd at the Ambassador Hotel. Harry Collura, banquet chairman, will be most happy to give further details concerning this gala affair.

It was with deep sympathy that the announcement of the death of Ed Gaulke was announced. He was member No. 2 in the Milwaukee Numismatic Society.

Exhibits included freak U. S. coins and many of the types of coins shown in the final feature of the evening. That feature was the showing of the ANA educational slides of U. S. types from the half cent to the 20 cent piece. These slides were capably narrated by Gale Highsmith.

Freak coins shown by D. Bertschy, U. S. Type coins by R. Porter.

—W. KLUG
Secretary

MISSOURI NUMISMATIC SOCIETY — 188th meeting, Hotel Roosevelt, St. Louis, Mo. Sept. 10th, 28 present, auction, Pres. D. Wayne Johnson presided.

NEW JERSEY NUMISMATIC SOCIETY — 272nd meeting Sept. 13th, Military Park Hotel; Arthur Mershon presided. J. A. Brown was elected secretary to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Baskin.

Herbert M. Oechsner exhibited an as grave, value of one ox, made in ancient Rome about 400 B.C. Wilford Blaisdell had Eisenhower commemorative "half dollar" patterns, one each of three types of only three of each known. Harry C. Mathews had a type set of U. S. commemorative halves, commemorative gold set, Norse thick and thin, Isabella quarter and Lafayette dollar. Henry Christiansen had commemoratives from Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway, many tracing the history of these countries into the early 19th century. J. F. Thatcher had many U. S. and foreign commemoratives. J. A. Brown showed a commemorative medal, 70 millimeters, four ounces, silver, with the king and queen of Belgium on the obverse. Mr. Mershon had a 1956-P half dollar picked up in circulation.

Discussion was that the 1955 proof set would always be worth more than the 1956 based on the number made but that the 1956 half dollar, if no more are minted, would in time be worth more than the 1955 for more of the 1956 are reaching circulation.

—JAMES A. BROWN
Secretary

ORANGE COUNTY COIN CLUB — 218th meeting, August 22, 1956, Brea, Cal.; Brea Womens Clubhouse; Pres. Courages presiding; 82 present; exhibits; auction; refreshments; six new members admitted.

In spite of vacations a good attendance came out to hear William H. Spence of Inglewood give the club his interesting and informative talk on "Dos Mundos Pillar Dollars." These were the most widely used coins circulated in the western world during colonial times and were used as legal tender in America as late as 1857 when there were still over two million in circulation. Most of these coins are found in good condition due to their superior design and very durable alloy of metals. The later types were called Spanish milled dollars which found their way to Asia and other parts of the world. Exhibiting specimens, Mr. Spence, pointed out the meaning of the design from which the name "pillar" was derived, namely the Pillars of Hercules at Gibraltar. The one on the left of the coin carried the imperial crown and the one on the right the regal crown. The symbols were used to indicate the joining of two hemispheres by Spain when it was one of the great colonial powers.

Samples of pillar dollars were also exhibited by Dan Harley and Dr. Curtis.

ADVERTISERS PLEASE NOTE FOLLOWING CONDITIONS

All correspondence relating to advertising should be addressed to the Advertising Manager, Burton H. Saxton, P. O. Box 548, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Make all remittances payable to the American Numismatic Association.

Advertising Contracts: These are available, covering periods of three, six and twelve consecutive months for display space as listed in the above Table of Rates, and are necessary if the schedule of reduced rates is to apply. If the advertiser prefers not to accept the Contract, such reduced rates will be granted only upon payment in advance for the period desired.

References: All advertisers who submit copy for the first time are definitely requested to furnish therewith banking or other satisfactory references.

Available Space Units: Practical considerations restrict the allocation of space units to those listed in the above table. Any amount of space (subject to any current limitations) is available IF these units or a combination of them are used. Unless contrary instructions are given, copy will be cut if found too full for the space designated; if no designation is made, it shall be understood the amount of space is left to the discretion of the Advertising Manager.

Unless under contract, smaller units than one-half page accepted subject to available space in desired issue.

Deadline: Copy must be received by the Advertising Manager by the 7th of the month to insure insertion in the following month's issue.

Illustrations: All cuts to be provided by the advertisers, care being used to see that they do not exceed in measurement the limits of the space unit desired. The Advertising Manager will, when requested, have suitable cuts made from furnished photographs.

We cannot accept mats.

Miscellaneous: Please furnish copy separately from your letter of transmittal. Advertising copy included in the body of a letter usually has to be re-typed for the printer; this should not be required. Mail auctions not acceptable.

Preparation of Copy: Advertising copy should be prepared with minute care. Carelessness invites error—something which both advertiser and publisher are anxious to avoid. Use only one side of the sheet. Send originals, not carbon copies. Use only paper of good quality, and not of extremely light weight.

In the absence of an Advertising Contract, when payment in advance for any number of consecutive months has been made, if change of copy has not been received by the 7th of the month for the next issue, the latest preceding advertisement will be run.

Advertisers may use a trade name, but, except in the case of an incorporated concern, the name of the proprietor or of some other responsible person connected with the firm must also appear in the advertisement.

The right to edit copy, to require payment in advance, and to decline any advertisement is specifically reserved.

AN INVITATION

I am preparing one of my periodical original Mehl Quality Sales. I have space for another consignment or two of nice numismatic material.

If you are contemplating selling your collection, this is a timely opportunity for you to do so most advantageously.

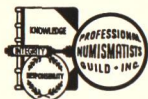

My terms are fair and reasonable and results are assured, the best as proven by my more than fifty years of numismatic success and leadership. At least WRITE me. You are assured of a prompt courteous reply, and certainly without obligation on your part.

U. S. PROOF SETS ?

Yes, I have "some" and offer them here at rather fair prices. These have greatly advanced in recent years. What the future holds for 'em I cannot foretell, but with more than 160 million people in the U. S. (and it seems that everyone wants Proof sets), the future for these should be good:

"CIRCULATED"

Collections we buy sometimes include circulated coins. Most of our orders are for uncirculated, so we seldom advertise the circulated material of small denomination. We are listing part of our stock of circulated Dimes and Quarters this month. If sales justify we will list more of this material next month. We think there are many collectors who do not need uncirculated coins, and that many spaces may be filled from the coins listed below. These coins are conservatively graded but we want our customers to be satisfied; so, as usual, anything not satisfactory may be returned within five days after receipt for full refund. We have not fixed a minimum, but will appreciate it if you will try to make your orders total $1.00 or more. Number in stock shown in parentheses ( ) if we have more than one.

Illinois collectors, please add 3% for Illinois Retailers Occupation Tax.

SPECIALIZING IN EARLY U.S. and COLONIAL COINS

I have added many new items to my stock of CHOICE EARLY U. S. and COLONIAL coins.

Though I may not be able to complete your set IMMEDIATELY, I feel certain that I'll be able to supply at least a few items from your want list, whether you collect TYPES, DATES, or DIE VARIETIES of U. S. COINS.

As for COLONIALS, my stock includes all of the common ones as well as a good number of the scarcer pieces, and some of the rarities. Condition ranges from the ordinary to the SUPERB.

Of course, I have the STATE COINAGES by their DIE VARIETIES, as well as TYPES.

Send me your want list — I'm sure you'll be satisfied.

I'll have a bourse table at the MICHIGAN STATE CONVENTION, NOV. 16, 17, 18. If you can be there, please stop and see me with your want list and/or duplicates.

YOUR WANT LISTS AND INQUIRIES ARE RESPECTFULLY INVITED

COMPLETE NUMISMATIC SERVICE

AUCTION SALES —

Auction Sales conducted as consignments warrant — approximately three times a year. Our next scheduled Sale will be in January. Consignments are now being accepted for this as well as the A. N. A. Convention Sale in August of next year.

DIRECT SALES —

I carry one of the largest stocks of coins, including U. S., Foreign and Ancients. A complete line of supplies and Numismatic books. Coins sent on approval to collectors supplying references. Your Want List is solicited.

PURCHASES —

I am in the market to purchase any quantity of worth-while material. Spot cash paid on agreement. Correspondence invited.

PUBLISHER OF "COINS AND CHATTER" —

A monthly trade organ listing material for sale; news, views and many informative articles. One dollar ($1.00) per year, refunded with first $10.00 order. Sample copy for the asking.

Avail yourself of the best in numismatic service.
Will call on you personally anywhere in the world
if circumstances warrant it.

IT'S A NEW IDEA IN NUMISMATICS!

Announcing the Publication of the

NUMISMATIC DIRECTORY

Here is the information you need — at your finger tips! Increase the pleasure and profit of your numismatic activity by knowing the facts obtained from the Numismatic Directory, soon to be published.

You will find this fact-filled directory will contain a listing of active coin dealers and the coins they buy and sell. You will find a listing of collector specialties. You will find special listings of coin associations and numismatic periodicals. You will find thousands of facts in this ready reference volume that will make it the most useful tool on the desk of every collector and dealer in the country.

BE SURE YOU ARE INCLUDED

Mr. Collector: Be sure you are included by listing your collecting specialties in the Numismatic Directory. Tell the numismatic world what you are collecting and reap the benefits of increased activity in your collecting specialty. Think of it! More coins and information will come to you because people know what you collect. Details on the next page.

Mr. Dealer: Be sure you are included by listing your selling specialty in the Numismatic Directory. It will increase your coin sales! You can also add to your mailing list by knowing what each collector is currently interested in buying. And you will find information in the directory useful in your every day activity. Please note: if you haven't received our dealer questionnaire for your special listing write for a copy immediately.

Mr. Vest-Pocket Dealer, Investors and Speculators: There is a section in the Numismatic Directory for you too! List your specialty (but be sure to mark it distinctly separate from your collecting specialties). See next page for other details.

Mr. Club Secretary: Watch for a questionnaire to be sent to you soon; if you do not receive one for your association within a week, write for a copy.

WHAT IS YOUR COLLECTING SPECIALTY?

List it in the Forthcoming Edition of the

NUMISMATIC DIRECTORY

What do you collect? How many people know about it? By listing your collecting specialty in the Numismatic Directory you will be placing it before the entire numismatic fraternity—advertising your collecting specialty for the entire year of 1957.

List your specialty in your own words, choosing a description which is as brief as possible. Use the name of a denomination, or geographic term, or a particular coin; use any description that defines your specialty. Some examples are: large cents—early, or European crowns, or medals—U.S., or gold coins of the world. Avoid vague terms like “general” “U.S.”—be specific.

FREE LISTING FOR EVERYONE

The price of the Numismatic Directory is one dollar. And here is the bargain of the year: with the purchase of your first copy of the Numismatic Directory you will receive one free listing of your collecting or dealing specialty.

Send your dollar for a copy of the Numismatic Directory and be sure to list your free specialty. Or include several specialties! Additional listings are only one dollar each. Surely no active collector can overlook this opportunity to advertise his specialty for only a dollar. Be sure, however, you include your name and address as you want it to be listed and mail it before the deadline, December 20, 1956. But order today! Each listing is one dollar and each copy is one dollar, and don't forget your free listing.

The Numismatic Directory will be published as soon as possible and will be a useful reference volume throughout the year 1957. It will contain information of interest to everyone in numismatics. In fact, I will personally guarantee it! If you do not find it materially aids you in increasing your numismatic pleasure or profit I will refund your money in full. So order your copy today and send your specialties to be listed.

COMMEMORATIVE HALF DOLLAR APPROVAL SHIPMENTS

Busy people find my Commemorative Half Dollar Approval Shipments the easy, convenient way to build up a choice set. All you have to do is send me a list of the Comm. Halves you already have, or a list of those you need. I will send shipments on approval as fast as you make returns, necessary within 30 days. The rare ones can be paid for in three or four monthly installments; then I send more coins as the balance goes down.

I have completed hundreds of sets for satisfied customers in past years, and would like to take care of your Commemorative coin needs. I handle coins on a close margin, so you are assured of a fair deal, and of course any coin not O.K. as to price or quality, is returnable without any discussion. You may stop shipments any time.

Time goes fast; many of my customers are glad they started getting my Comm. approvals back in 1946, so send me that list right away, and in a few years you will be glad you started on these approvals in 1956.

SPECIAL BARGAINS FOR THE MONTH

I have taken the following coins at random from my stock having ten or more of each; all unc. unless otherwise stated. Orders under $10.00, please add 25c. Send list of others you need and I will send on approval if available.

Latin knowledge is not necessary . . . most coins are not expensive! So, go ahead and enjoy this fascinating field!

This new book proves how easy it is to read and date Roman Imperial Coins . . . even for beginners! Without a knowledge of Latin, and without great expense you can become an adept collector of these coins. In 128 pages this clearly written book covers methods for determining dates; explanations and charts which are brief and easy to understand; and, scores of illustrations adjacent to descriptions. Sturdily bound. Gold stamped board cover. Size  $5\frac{1}{8} \times 7\frac{3}{4}$  inches. Ask at your hobby dealer.

INVITATION

A MOST URGENT ONE to those who, for any reason, have decided to dispose of their collection — especially of U. S. — in whole or in part, to get in touch with me before final decision is reached. I realize it is a competitive market; I am not looking for "bargains," and am prepared to meet top market values for desirable material.

A DESCRIPTIVE HISTORY OF NATIONAL BANK NOTES

By William H. Dillistin — A.N.A. 8527

First and only descriptive history of these interesting notes covering their entire period of issue — 1863-1935

AN INDISPENSABLE REFERENCE WORK FOR COLLECTORS AND OTHERS

SYNOPSIS OF CONTENTS:

PART I: A revised reprint of an article by this writer entitled, "NATIONAL BANK NOTES IN THE EARLY YEARS." Full and complete record of notes of the Original Series and Series of 1875 (the First Charter Period) 1863-1882; together with early historical information.

PART II: A revised reprint of an article by this writer entitled, "NATIONAL GOLD BANKS AND BANK NOTES," containing detailed description of those banks and notes issued by them.

PART III: A new and heretofore unpublished descriptive history of national bank notes of the Series of 1882 (the Second Charter Period) and Series of 1902 (the Third Charter Period). Shows among other things, years issued, denominations, color of seals, and distinction between "brown backs," dates on back, and denominations on back. All of which is fully described and briefly set forth in a ready reference chart. An account is also given of the reduced size notes, Series of 1929. This history concludes with three interesting schedules showing total amount of national bank notes outstanding by denominations of both large and small size as of July 31, 1936 and 1956, and total redemptions and total notes outstanding by years of both large and small size each year for the past 20 years.

Now being prepared and already I have some outstanding material. There will be three BIG AUCTION SALE DAYS. Can use three choice collections.

Coins of every denomination from Half Cents through Gold 50 Dollar Slugs.
Want every date and Mint. U. S. coins, currency, foreign, etc. Want just about anything in the line of a collection of value or special interest.

PLEASE WRITE NOW to reserve space for your consignment. Include a list of your items for sale.

My sales established since 1928 have proven successful. Results none better anywhere. Still hold some records of Top Prices Realized on coins sold in the first sale of the Numismatic Association of California. More records were set in my August and September coin sales. All these will be duplicated and many new top record prices will be realized in this sale, according to the recent trend and the excellent market in California.

HINT:—Place your coins in this sale. This will give you a personal interest and you too will want to attend the convention.

COIN TUBES FOR ROLLS Custom Made of Clear Plastic

Enthusiastically accepted by dealers and collectors

Made of thermo-plastic cellulosicbase resin. Has excellent long term stability under atmospheric changes.

Made with press fit removable caps;
coins are clearly visible through side and caps of these tubes. All sizes made to close tolerances to keep coins from shifting. The light weight semi-rigid material used in the manufacturing of these tubes makes them especially suitable for storing and preserving uncirculated coins.

Send for sample package of nine tubes, $1.00

Size No. 1 for Cents; No. 2, for Nickels; No. 3, for Dimes; No. 4, for Quarters;
No. 5, Halves. PRICE—$10.00 per hundred, your choice of sizes. In smaller quantities 12¢ each. Dealers write for prices.

KOINTAINS & KOINPANELS

Encase your uncirculated and proof coins FIRST in the individual KoinTains; then mount in KoinPanel. KoinTains are made of INERT plastic, air-tight, compact and economical.

KOINVELOPES — INERT plastic coin envelopes that will not discolor, crack or become brittle in time like cellophane. They are CHEMICALLY SAFE.

Per 100

|----------|---------------------------------|---------|

RARE AS THE 1822 HALF EAGLE!

LARGE CENT

1803. S-252 with perfect dies, in almost uncirculated condition.

No use to repeat Dr. Sheldon's remarks here, anyone sufficiently interested will have or may obtain access to his words and works.

HALF DOLLAR

1829 Large letter reverse, in very fine condition.

All attempts to classify according to Beistle's register meet with no success. W. F. Dunham collection, Lot 722, sold in 1941 makes some pertinent comment on this item.

BY REQUEST

A friend asked me to call these two items to your attention, as he so aptly stated: "How can anyone know of these RARITIES, when there are so few specimens available, unless you publicize your findings?"

INTERESTED?

These two items will be sold in January of 1957 to some correspondent between now and that time. This will give ample time to check all records, which must be older than those I have of the past twenty-five years for any definite word on these very rare coins.

Are You A Member of My CROWN OF THE MONTH CLUB?

Thereby making it possible for the collector to form a nice Crown collection over a period of time with a minimum amount of expense.

The plan is simple—you subscribe to a $5-$10-$15-$20-$25-$50 or $100 monthly plan which you are free to discontinue at any time you wish. If you already have a Crown collection started, give me a listing, and from then on I take over—sending you a shipment of different Dollars of the world monthly or whenever you are ready for them; AND REMEMBER, all Crowns will be at least VF to brill. unc. with the exception of rarities or scarce pieces which are, of course, acceptable in lesser condition. Also, COINS WILL BE BELOW CATALOGUE PRICE and YOU must be SATISFIED. Fair enough?

Start your chosen plan today and watch your collection grow.

Your Crown collection can be housed in beautiful Cot-Well plastic coin holders at additional cost if you wish. Each Crown custom fitted and gold stamped if desired. A subscription for the above plan as a gift to some numismatic friend or relative will be given prompt attention.

DOLLARS OF THE WORLD are my specialty—please write if you have some individual pieces in mind.

Our new List on Dollars of the World, available on request.
